TO BUY BOSTON AND MAINE?
Orders for Creation of Work Taken to Mean That the Vanderbilts Want It.
NARSUA, N. H., April 30.—Orders for cessation of work until July and the purchase of no more supplies in some of the shops and departments of the Boston and Maine Railroad have given rise to the report that the property is to be absorbed by the New York Central at an early date. It is known that for some time the Central has desired the Boston and Maine, but has regarded its capitalization as too high. Some favorable legislation was enacted recently for the Boston and Maine.

The Wanamaker Store.

The Day's Interest In Men's Clothing

BOTH sense and sentiment combine in demanding that the fashionable man give earnest thought to matters of Spring and Summer clothing. Today the WANAMAKER CLOTHING STORE is brim full of exactly the things he wants to know about.

Our clothing experts have taken great care in the selection, first, that the fabric is all-wool; second, in watchfulness that goods are thoroughly sponged and otherwise prepared for cutting, and, most important of all, that styles are the smartest and most correct known to ready-made clothing.

Every garment of the WANAMAKER stock is silk-sewed, and WANAMAKER clothing is produced with more hand-work than you find in much custom-tailored work. These facts, and they alone, are responsible for the marvelous success of WANAMAKER clothing in New York City.

The lines shown today include:

Fancy cheviot and Worsted Suits at $12 to $30.
Blue and black Serge Suits at $10 to $25.
Cutaway Frock Suits, of black thibet and unfinished worsteds, at $15 to $30.
Double-breasted Frock Coats and Waistcoats at $20, $25, $35.
Men's Fancy Waistcoats at $2.50 to $5.50.
Men's Striped Worsteds at $3.50 to $6.
Young Men's fancy cheviot and worsted Sack Suits at $5.50 to $20.
Second floor, Fourth Avenue.

Warm-Weather Furnishings for Men

A GOOD many men hurried for a new bath-robe yesterday, the blanket robes of winter time were unbearable. The ideal Summer robe is of Terry cloth, and the WANAMAKER collection is unmatched in New York City. Several lines have just arrived from Vienna. They are the best made bath-robe that we know anything about.

If you have given up wearing Terry cloth robes because they were not comfortable, it is simply because you bought them at the wrong place. WANAMAKER Robes are ample in size in both width and length. Prices, $2.50, $6.50, $7.50 and $8.50.

Some new Summer Shirts have just been opened. They are made of imported madras, in the new plaid effects, very neat and refined. The plaids are in neat cords of black on white and navy blue on white; good looking and attractive; detached cuffs, $2 each.

The new Linen Collars at 25c each are worth looking at. They are such collars as have always previously been sold at 35c each. They have hand-made button-holes, and are in five different styles of high-band turnovers. Broadway and Ninth Street.

May Day News of Women's Dresses and Wraps

THERE never was a Summer of the past for which a May Day gave such promise of beauty in apparel. The keynote of our present display of costumes is given by Grand Prix dresses which have been exhibited all this week—matchless productions of the three kings of Paris fashion of the present season, Beer, Paquin and Douillet. The unique feature about these costumes is that the millinery and the parasols have been made to match the dresses. The hats by such famous modistes as Marie Crozet, Camille Roger, Lewis and Suzanne et Barault. The Parasols are made by Beer and Boismare.

Among the more practical dresses the collection is no less notable. We have an extensive collection of Summer gowns for morning, afternoon and evening wear at shore or mountain, including coat suits of linen and crash. There are Summer dresses of organdy and point d'esprit, at $15 to $100; shirt-waist suits of linen and lawn, $5.50 to $20; of silk and pongee at $12.75 to $25; tailor-made dresses of voile, at $18.75 to $75; stylish Walking Suits, at $10 to $50.

The Summer Coats are made of such cool fabrics as linen, crash, pongee and novelty linen fabrics in a marvelous variety of attractive styles, mostly hip lengths with linings of figured batiste. Prices range from $15 to $70.

Second floor, Broadway.

Twenty Thousand Sheets and Cases.

Everybody knows how high cotton has gone—the price for the fleecy staple is 'way up. And for that very reason we have selected just this time to inaugurate a great sale of Ready-made Sheets and Pillow Cases, which has for its attractions reliable quality and prices that would have been very low when all domesticities were selling at much less than current market quotations. It is one of the unique Macy trade anomalies: Selling goods cheapest just when they are worth most.

Every one of the twenty thousand Sheets and Pillow Cases is made of strong, full-beached muslin, perfectly hemmed and well-ironed.

Some Overtowering Values in the Basement Among the Cotton and Wool Dress Goods.

These trophies are for the frugal hosts that will respond Friday and Saturday. There isn't an obsolete fabric among them. All this season's styles; new, fresh; cautiously, judiciously chosen by a particular judge who knew he had a particular clientele to please.

Prime favorites are abundant—sturdy weaves; dainty weaves—a winsome gathering. The display is a "strong bargain offering," but vastly different from the hodge-podge—wilted and meagre—to which other dealers apply the same words. Wonder-prices, to be sure. Mid-summer merchandising run riot on the verge of May.

- 8c. for 12c. to 25c. Dimities—including the best American and Irish brands—fine, clear cloths, charming designs exquisitely printed.
- 8c. for 12c. Corded Ginghams, solid colors and fancies. Two hundred effects to select from—warranted not to fade.
- 11c. for 15c. Pique—two splendid lines—polka dots, stripes and a large variety of figures in colors that will not come out.
- 19c. for 35c. to 50c. Silk Ginghams—nothing prettier for women's and children's warm-weather dresses—beautiful wearing and dyeing.
- 19c. for 50c. All-Wool Black Jacquards—highest satin finish, four desirable patterns, every thread pure wool, 38 and 42 inches wide, sold regularly at 50c. a yard; just for an enthusiastic hurrah we will sell them at 19c.

Men's Furnishings.
1st Fl., 24th St.
750 dozen Men's Fine Collars will be sold at Six for 44c.

Particulars: 550 dozen of them are high-class Collars that were made expressly for us—both sides pure linen. Close inspection revealed that some of them are marred here and there, on their otherwise smooth surfaces, by very small flecks or specks due to a slight imperfection in the weave of the linen. The defects are too slight for you to notice them unless you know they are there.

200 Dozen are the most conspicuously advertised Collars in America and are sold everywhere at 25c. In deference to the manufacturer's wishes the brand has been erased from them.

Both lots include all the new turn-over summer shapes, 14 to 17 $\frac{1}{2}$ , sold only in lots of
